

Returning to On-site Work

System Offices staff will come back to work in the office in small, controlled phases we call “waves”. This approach allows us to track any new COVID-19 infections and keep everyone as safe as we can.

Above all, if you can continue to do your job effectively from your home or alternate work location, stay home or at your alternate work location.

Wave Schedule

Eligible staff will return to work in three waves. This approach allows us to monitor infections and help keep you safe.

These timetables are subject to public health conditions and can change as we receive further guidance from state health authorities.

| Wave Group | Start Date |
|------------|------------|
| Wave 1     | May 18     |
| Wave 2     | June 1     |
| Wave 3     | July 6     |

Talk with Your Supervisor to Decide When You Can Return to Work in the Office

Determine if you are eligible to return to work in the office.

- Decide which employee category you fit in.
- Talk with your supervisor and make a decision.

New On-site Behaviors

Staff returning to on-site work must comply with new on-site work and meeting behaviors. (Please read the “New On-site Behaviors” document for more information).
